Can I effectively use color enhancer on honed travertine tile that has already been sealed with a sealer/impregnator?

Dear Matt:

If the impregnator that was applied is any good, the answer to your question is no. A color-enhancer has to be absorbed by the stone to work, and an impregnator is designed to help prevent anything to be absorbed by the stone. Soâ€¦ J

Now remember, it's never too early to think about the proper maintenance of your stone. The issue of what you'll be doing day in and day out to your stone is â€œ as it should be intuitive â€œ vastly more important than its sealing (if and when possible and/or advisable) and it's all too often neglected. As you can tell by reading many of this site's postings, you're not likely to get good information about routine care from your dealer or installer. Don't become another statistic! By logging into the Helpful Hints section of our website at: http://www.mbstone.com/HH\_promo/helpful\_hints.htm , you will be able to get the short version of our maintenance guidelines at no charge. The full version of it â€œ a 7-page document considered by many as an industry benchmark â€œ is available in pay-per-download format in our Educational Literature section at: <http://www.mbstone.com/literature/literature.htm> .
