The grease from our George Forman grill dripped onto the exterior granite ledge we had it on. What can we use to remove the grease stain? Thanks for your help with this problem.

Dear Marsha:

That "George" sure works great, but can be a tad messy at times!! :-)

If the stone is exposed to the weather, within a month or so, after a couple of hard rains and the bleaching of good ol' sun, that stains should be just a memory.

But if you don't have any patient to wait for it to happen naturally!

When it comes to stain removal, either you buy one of those expensive "Professional kits" (that no true professional ever uses!) at a stone retailer near you, or you can spend less money and get our comprehensive guidelines on how to remove stains by using inexpensive and far more effective means that you may already have in your household! Such impressive piece of literature will also tell you how to tell stains apart from "stains", and what to do about the latter! It does carry a small price tag, and you can order it by logging on at: <http://www.marblecleaning.org/literature.htm>. It's available in pay-per-download format and it's much cheaper than any kit on the market! Not to mention the little and much needed support you'd be giving to the cause " your cause - since every single penny of the cost of the article will be used to support it.
