Q. I have purchased colonian gold "granite" for my countertops. I wanted to know if it is typically okay or not. Don't know if it's a "true" granite or not, but would like to know. Doesn't seem like many are. My fabricator seemed to do a good job on it. I just found your website. Wish I would have known about it before. Thanks, Maryann

A. Maryann, this should be a good granite for a kitchen application. You just need to make sure you maintain the granite properly. To get a free care guide go to www.stoneandtilepros.com/care-guide.pdf.

Enjoy your countertops!
