Q.Hi There, Any advice on how I can go about removing a stain on a tile caused by sitting in Tilex liquid for a length of time, it took on the shape of the base of the bottle and looks horrible, Thanks for your help Bill
A.Hello Bill-I see alot of those tilex bottle stains.They are the classic etch mark.Rule of thumb bill a true stain will always be darker than the stone.An etch mark which isnt a true stain will always be lighter than the stone.You can try our mb-11 to get out the etch. Maurizio called it happiness in a bottle and hopefully you will too.

However it may be too deep and will need to be taken out by a professional stone refinisher .
