

Coloring Travertine?

I work for a fabricator/installer and we just installed a light travertine countertop in a customer's home. She picked her bathroom tile before she picked the slab color, and she is unhappy with the slab color, as the base tone is a little more yellow than the beige/pink toned tiles. Is there anything that can be done to change the tone? I have a feeling the answer is going to be no... Thanks for your help!

Dear Sydney:

Call it woman's intuition if you will, but you did guess the answer!... :-)
