Hi! I just installed Silver Sparkle on my kitchen counters. I told my installer not to seal it (based on what I read on your web site)but he insisted. Cleaned it with acetone then "sealed" it with a 511 impregnator. Did he ruin it? Can I just use MB 5 to clean it? Thank you for your help.

Dear Danielle:

No, your fabricator did not ruin your stone. He just acted like a robot. The company that makes the sealer sealed his brain first and then coached him into submission at doing the sealing thing all the time and then give them the money! J

That said, don't worry and take it from there with good stone care products like MB-5 and MB-13.
